

Helping Your Child Succeed in Virginia High Schools: Understanding Alternative Assessments for Standards of Learning (SOLs) for Students with Disabilities

With Rhonda Jackson, Add VOICE Too, LLC

Thursday, September 21, 2017 6:30-8:00pm

4031 University Drive, Fairfax, VA 22030

When available accommodations for the Standards of Learning (SOLs) exams just aren't enough, there are alternatives students with disabilities can access. Learn how alternatives to the SOLs can be made available to your student when their disability prevents them from demonstrating their knowledge sufficiently to achieve the verified credits needed for an Advanced Studies or Standard Diploma.

Rhonda Jackson, is an adoptive parent to a teenage son who has received special education services for over 10 years within the public school setting. Rhonda is an Educational Business Consultant with training in Transition Services for students with disabilities. She is the founder of Add VOICE Too, LLC which provides training services to prepare young adults who are transitioning to postsecondary activities. She has a Master's degree in both Business and Public Administration and is board certified as a special education advocate, with over 15 years of advocacy experience.

Session is FREE; register at www.FormedFamiliesForward.org or call 703-539-2904 to let us know you are coming! No child care is available for this session.

Open to all parents, caregivers, and professionals, though content will address issues of particular relevance to foster, adoptive and kinship families. We offer training and support to foster, adoptive and kinship families raising children and youth with special needs.
