

Love and Logic Basics
with Meaghan Lane
of Northern Virginia Family Services

Thursday, October 5, 2017 ♦ 6:30-8:30 PM
4031 University Dr., Fairfax VA 22030

Do you want to raise respectful, responsible kids who are fun to be around? Do you want to have fun doing it? Do you want to bring home some concrete skills that you can begin using with kids of any age today? Join us to learn more about Parenting with Love and Logic! This introductory session is designed to cover the basics of the program.

Meaghan Lane, MSW, works as a parent trainer and recruiter for NVFS, a local foster care agency. She earned her Master's degree in Social Work from George Mason University and has been working in the foster care field for nine years. She has been a facilitator of the Parenting the Love and Logic Way © for five years and loves applying these valuable concepts at home with her three young children, at work with the foster parents and children she works with, and even with her friends and family!

Light refreshments will be served. The session is for adult participants; no child care is available during the session.

Love and Logic is a way of working with children that puts parents and teachers back in control, teaches children to be responsible and prepares young people to live in the real world, with its many Register: www.FormedFamiliesForward.org This free event is open to all, though content will address issues of particular relevance to foster, adoptive and kinship families. Call 703-539-2904 for more information.