With Becky Wolozin, Esq.

Tuesday, January 9, 2018 ♦ 2:00-4:00 PM

4031 University Dr., Fairfax VA 22030

Grandparents, aunts, uncles and other relatives who serve as primary caregivers for children and youth often experience hurdles in enrolling children in schools and in community activities, securing medical care, granting permission in financial matters, and other duties that parents typically meet. JustChildren program attorney Becky Wolozin will review school enrollment policies and procedures, and offer suggestions for kinship caregivers and birth parents as they develop care arrangements for minor children and teens. Becky will address strategies for demonstrating consent across parenting duties. Parents, caregivers and professionals who work with kinship caregivers are encouraged to attend.

Presenter Becky Wolozin, Esq., is the Equal Justice Works Fellow, at the JustChildren Program of the Legal Aid Justice Center.
